

QUEENS COLLEGE PHILOSOPHY CONFERENCE

Beyond Function

The Self in the Modern World

This conference explores the relationship between the self and the modern world. We invite reflection on personal identity, agency, freedom, community, and what it means to live “the good life.” How do technological, social, political, and religious developments shape selfhood and human flourishing?

DATE AND TIME

NOVEMBER 12, 2026

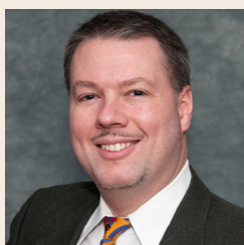

8:30 AM - 8:30 PM

LOCATION

Dining Hall 120 & 122 (Q-side)

Queens College, CUNY

65-30 Kissena Boulevard, Flushing, NY 11367

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

John J. Davenport

Professor of Philosophy · Fordham University

A scholar of Kierkegaard and the existential tradition, Davenport studies free will, personal identity, autonomy, and virtue ethics. He is a past president of the Kierkegaard Society USA.

CALL FOR PAPERS

Submit a Paper

Students and scholars are invited. Student papers, especially from Queens College students, are encouraged.

ABSTRACT

300-400 words stating the thesis and its relevance to the conference theme.

PAPER

Approximately 3,000 words or 10 double-spaced pages.

ABSTRACT SUBMISSION DEADLINE

October 21, 2026

SEND YOUR ABSTRACT

anthony.malagon@qc.cuny.edu

Full call for papers and suggested topics:

beyondfunctionqc.github.io

SCAN FOR DETAILS

